

最先端ときめき研究推進事業「バイオサイエンスの時代における人間の未来」
第40回ときめき★セミナー(主催:基礎人間科学講座現代思想専攻)

“Phenomenology of Embodiment and Patient-based Research (Tojisha-Kenkyu).”

Program:

Karel Novotný (University of Prague)

“Subjectivity of Embodiment”

Dorothee Legrand (CNRS, University of Hiroshima)

“Indiscretion with regard to the unsayable*: epistemic and ethical considerations relative to patient-based research (*Levinas, Otherwise than Being).”

Minae Inahara (University of Osaka)

“The disabled body, the able-bodied form: A feminist exploration of dialogue between Fanon and Beauvoir.”

“Tojisha-Kenkyu” (Patient-based research) is a new philosophical and political movement who may completely renew the traditional framework of the social science. In this workshop, we would like to discuss the theoretical and practical potentiality of this movement from the standpoint of phenomenology.
